THE DEBATING CLUB.-Business prevented our attendance at the debate on Monday night but we learn with satisfaction, that the young men acquitted themselves with credit.

MARBLE YARD .- Attention is called to the card of Mr. Leland Speers, who is prepared to execute in finished style any work entrusted to him. The many specimens to be seen in his yard are worthy of inspection.

CHILLS.-The late sudden changes of weather have produced a large amount of chilis and fevers, but we are pleased to say that they generally yield to the skillful treatment of our physicians.

GREAT CHANGE .- On Saturday last at 21 o'clock, the thermometer stood at 96, and on Sunday afternoon, just 21 hours later, it marked 60, making a difference of 36 deg. At this rate it is not unreasonable to look out for an early frost. It is said that at 440 temperature, we have frost in this latitude.

HEALTHY.-It is with pleasure, that we chronicle the flattering fact, that the municipal authorities are having Culhoun Street cleansed of its large turfts of grass, besides having the street widened. A step in the right direction. Can't they do likewise with other streets?

SOMETHING NEW .- The long vacant store between the Baltimore Corner and Dr. R. S. Whaley's office, has been rented by Mr. Salinas, of Charleston, and is being rapidly filled with a fine Stock of Groceries and other goods. Mr. Horton Marshall, just returned from Greenville, is engaged as chief sales-

ROSEMONT CEMETERY .- We note with unfeigned delight, that the Cemetery is being laid off into squares, walks, &c. In a few days the trustees will have everything ready for giving titles to lots. By the judicious planting of a few hundred trees, it will become the crowning ornament of Newberry, and a delight to all the people.

CBITUARY-We are pained to chronicle the death of Mrs Mary Y., wife of Dr. J. P. "Ox Dir."-This trite French phrase is horribly abused by certain curiously disposed the Court House, among little boys, on Concert. Tuesday night, the 16th, at the that prompts both males and females to use this expression so profusely to the injury and confusion of so many innocent persons? Is doing, however rough and thorny at first, it that puny jealousy so characteristic of those who are ill-natured? Or is it the natural malicious disposition of some to cause others vexation, because they themselves can't be quiet unless doing evil? We hear often of reports started, (which are entirely false), which are told by the concoctors, as having been told them. It is "on dit," when really the relators are the "on dit" themselves. Do remember, "do unto others as you would have them do unto you," and cease retailing real falsehoods under the license of "on dit."

One of our exchanges thus reasons with the man who don't take the papers-except when he takes them from his neighbors: Now I tell you, squire, the day will come when somebody will write a long enlogy, on your life, character, etc., and the printer will put it in type, with a heavy black rule over and under it, and with all your riches this will be done for you as a pauper. Your liberalities, wealth and all such will be spoken of, but the printer as he arranges the ispe, will remark: "Poor, mean devil, he never took the paper, and is now swindling the printer out of his funeral notice."

an exchange-and on it hangs a tale: "Whenever a gentleman wants anything published, whether it interests the public or only an individual, he is willing and will propose to pay. Somebody must pay for it. and hereafter it will not be the printer. The fact that the proposed publication would interest the public has nothing to do with the matter in issue. Undeveloped Vigor.

The feeble and debilitated usually fancy they are in a more hopeless condition than they really are. The resources of nature are not easily exhausted. Even when strength and appetite fail, when the eyes are heavy and lustreless, the complexion pallid, the nerves tremulous, the body attenuated, and the mind depressed, there is generally a reserve of latent power behind such palpable evidences of weakness. Various modes of treatment are resorted to by physicians in the hope of developing and rendering available this store of sleeping vitality, but the surest, and indeed the only thoroughly safe and reliable means of awakening the dormant energies of the system is a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.
